General Roberts, of Afghanistan fame, was sent in August last to Germany by his Government to attend the autumn maneuvres of the Hanover and Schleswig Holstein Army Corps. The Prussian system and its perfection of organization, in his opinion, constitutes the most flat-hed and easily worked fighting machine the world has known. To such perfection has achine the world has known. To such perfection ha its organization been brought, he says, that in one night any army corps can be mobilized. He was told that in the bureau of the general staff letters were ready stamped and addressed to every department and comstamped and addressed to every department and com-manding officer of the several army corps, only requir-ing the dates to be filled in for discatch in ten minutes. He was assured that all the horses belonging to private people throughout the country were marked off for the regiments and batteries te which they would be attached in war time, and also the hour and the train by which each horse would be dispatched to its desimation.

A good deal of interest has been aroused in England over the discoveries on the site of a Roman villa in Wingham. Earl Cowper, the owner of the property, and the tenant are cooperating heartily with the committee of scientists which has the work in charge. In the foundations, the masenry first touched upon proved to be a bath, the walls being covered with black and white tesserse-tile-shaped stones. The floor, which was destroyed, had been made of the same material Three steps lead into another room, ten feet square paved with black and white tesserie arranged in diamond paved with black and white tessers arranged in diamond pattern and enclosed in a border of alternate black and white stripes. In a third room the black and white isseers are "animizably disposed in a labyrinth fret design," being bordered as in the room has described. The passages through which the hot air passed into the various parts of the building have been discovered, and cleared of their contents. The work promises to bear rich results.

Impecunious princes fare badly in Berlin. Some time ago Prince Eristoff, a Russian, finding hiuseif without money and wishing to go to St. Petersburg planned what he thought was a clever scheme for r plenishing his exhausted exchequer. He had some welry valued at nearly $3,000 sent to his hotel by a credulous firm, and he persuaded the guileless hotel porter to lend him $1,000 to pay for it. He then sold a part of the jewelry, and, taking all of his ill-gotten gains prepared to decamp to the Russian capital, where doubtless he expected to cut a brilliant figure for a time. Be fore this inckless adventurer could board a railway train, however, his active career was cut short by the police, and he will not have a chance to go to Russia for two years to come, that being the term of his sentence.

Isaac Fineberg, of Manchester, England, is a sadder and a wiser pawabroker than he was two weeks ago. Recently John Haigh, a boat-owner, applied to him for a loan of $500, offering a somewhat unusual se eurity-a number of canal-boats. After negotiating with the pawnbroker for some time, Haigh admitted to him that there were several bills of sale upon the boats Thereupon the wily money-lender not only refused to advance the $500 but demanded $25 for the trouble that the matter had caused him. The boat-owner objecting to this extortion, the Shylock and his son barricaded the door of their shop and kept him a prisoner for some time, releasing him only after he had given his note for time, releasing min only after he had given his hole it the payment of the sum demanded. The case set in the courts by reason of the indiscreet efforts of the money-lender to collect the $25 on the note, and the justice gave the bost-owner damages in the sum of $15 to the surprise and disgust of his grasping adversary.

Edison, backed by American capitalists, according to a London journal, is to introduce electric lights into dwelling-houses in a section of London. A building has been leased near the Holboru Viaduct, where machinery will be set up immediately. The Cor poration of the city has referred to a committee the offer of the company to light the viaduct with incandescent lamps free of charge. The intention is that the houses within a convenient distance shall be supplied with electricity by meter for domestic use. "This," says The London Daily News, "is an experiment by which gas will be met on its own field and under its own conditions of supply. The public can well afford to stand aside and watch with impartiality the issue of the test. What they want is the best light supplied on the cheapest terms, and if it can be shown that the electric light may be supplied as cheaply as gas, used as conveniently and counted apon as safely, the newcomer will speedily supersede the older light."

PUBLIC OPINION.

A WET SEASON FOR DEMOCRATS.

From the dolorous comments of the Southern press, it appears that the result of the Virginia election has brought the Democratic party into the situation of Noah's raven, or dove (whichever it was). According to the ancient narrative, Noah had been at sea about two months when he sent forth the bird to accertain the production of the second sea about two months when he sent forth the bird to accertain two months when he sent forth the bird to ascertain whether the great overflow was subsiding. The bird went to and fro, "but found no rest for the sole of her foot." The case is the same, it appears, with the old party of tradition. It has been going to and fro for twenty years, hoping that the waters would abate. But, instead of abating, they have at last overtopped even the mountains of Virginia. Finding he place for the sole of its foot, the party must drown or seek refuge in the ark. Alas! where is the ark of the Democracy I it has disappeared from Virginia, the province in which the old gopher-wood craft was launched, and the raven knoweth not where to look for it.

SOME RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION ABOUT GUITEAU

SOME RIGHTEOUS INDIGNATION ABOUT GUITEAU From The Cincinnati Commercial.

The murderer of President Garfield should not be allowed to utier another word in court. Can the Judge realize that American jurisprudence is on trial! In the report of the trial of Guiteau we notice "laughter," "laughter," "laughter," following the miserable monkeying that is going on. The people around the court house do not seem to know what is the matter. Do they not apprehend a storm some of these days! Perhaps it would be well to have Guiteau furnished with an iron ceiffn in which to ride between the jail and court house—and be might have it arranged so as to still it while before the court. No doubt such a spectacle would arouse the remarkable sense of humor apparent among the spectators of the trial.

Paris, Nov. 22.-In the Chamber of Deputies to-day, in committee on supplementary votes for the operations in Tunis, Premier Cambetta stated that the policy of the Government relative to Tunis was based on the order of the day moved by him and adopted on November 9, de claring that France was resolved to observe loyally the treaty with the Bey. He said that all future measures would previously be submitted to the Chambers for ap-proval. He would submit on Saturday fresh credits for the expenses of December. He declined to say anything in approval or disapproval of the financial acts of the late Caolnet.

The Governorship of Algeria was offered to M. de Freydinet, but was positively declined by him.

THE STATE OF IRELAND.

LONDON, Nov. 22 .- The Manchester Guardian's Lo. don correspondent says: "There is reason to believe that the Irish Government is drafting an important measure for the next session of Parliament, dealing with the jury laws. The highest legal authorities are unanimous in the opinion that if the Coercion act be permitted to lapse the law must be strengthen connection with both summary jurisdiction and the jury

. THE EGYPTIAN QUESTION.

London, Nov. 23.-The Standard's Paris cor respondent says: "M. Gambetta's vgan Paris publishe a sensational disputch from London stating that Prince Bismarck's son Herbert had arrived in London on a secret mission. His errand, the dispatch says, is to offer secret mission. His errand, the dispatch says, is to offer England the pessession of Egypt to the exclusion of France, and to guarantee that no Power naving interests in the Mediterranean will be permitted to go beyond diplomatic means in resisting such annexation. The correspondent says that but for the peculiar position which the Paris occupies in relation to M. Gambetta the story would hardly be worthy of serious notice."

LONDON, Nov. 22.—A dispatch to The Daily News from Paris says: "The interpretation put upon the alleged mission of Herbert Hismurck to London is that Germany, vexed, if not measy at the cordial relations between France and England, is trying to transform into discord tac financial and political pickes the two great Powers have taken in regard to Egypt."

AFFAIRS IN RUSSIA.

Berlin, Nov. 22 .- It is stated that General Vanowski, the Russian Minister of War, is much con cerned in consequence of the army curtailments, by which many officers are suffering from straitened e umstances. The Minister of War expressed fear that these officers would go to swell the ranks of the Nihilists and asked the Minister of Finance to find employment and assect the antister of rimines to find employments for the superfluous officers, but the request has been refused. The creation of a number of extra posts in the Cancasus will probably be authorized to provide for the dismissed officers.

In consequence of the appearance of seditions proclamations in the military schools of St. Petersburg, the police have been ordered to enter and search suspicious places.

FUREIGN NOTES.

LONDON, Tuesday, Nov. 22, 1881. Sixteen houses have been burned at Ayr, Scotland, and hirty families have in consequence been rendered home The London newspapers, except The Daily News, pub. lish congratulatory articles on the betrothal of Princess Helena, of Waldeck.

The report that the men who escaped m a boat from the burning steamer Solway had been picked up on the trish coast proves to be untrue. The Court of Inquiry into the foundering on the 20th of October of the steamer Cian Macduff and consequent loss of life, considered that the vessel was too deply laden, and that the master showed want of judgment. In the Court of Queen's Bench to-day, in the libel case of Clement Scott against Mr. Sampson, Admiral Carr Glyn was recalled. He declared that the assertion that Mr. Scott when obtaining the advance of £500 from him mentioned Miss Nellson's name, or expressed or implied a threat, was a mailclous lie. A verdiet was rendered awarding damages in the sum of £1,500 to the plaintiff.

The London correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says: "It is understood that the Duke of Cambridge, Commander-in-Chief of the forces, has drawn up a min nte partaking of the nature of a protest by the Bight Hon. RAILROAD NEWS.

MR VANDERBILT ON THE FREIGHT WAR. HIS POSITION UNCHANGED-NO AGREEMENT TO BE MADE SIMPLY TO BE BROKEN-FAIR, OPEN RATES TO BE INSISTED ON.

In spite of the many rumors of a speedy settlement of the railroad war which have been circulated in Wall-st, recently, there are no indications that the conflict is near its end. The present position of the contest is involved in no little mystery and confusion. The schedule rates on freight from Chicago to New-York are higher by the Vander! ilt lines than by any other, and on the other hand the West-bound freight rates are lower by the Central and the Erie than by the other trunk lines. The schedule rates, however, are not observed on either West or East bound freight, and the cutting in rates goes on as vigorously as before the nominal advances were made. It has been frequently ru mored lately that some negotiations were pending for a settlement of the difficulty; that Mr. Vander bilt was disposed to accept any compromise that would secure harmony, and his friends have stated that he would accede to any reasonable terms of settlement. There is excellent anthority for saving that Mr. Vanderbilt has not changed in any essential particular from the views he has previously ex-

Referring to the matter last evening, Mr. Vanderbilt said to a Tribune reporter: "There is no doubt bilt said to a Tribune reporter: "There is no doubt that the railroad war is a very foolish thing; but it is difficult to pick out the fools. Perhaps I am one of them; there may be others. I have studied this railroad matter pretty thoroughly and I am not sure that the railroad managers should settle this question of differ atial rates between the different cities on the seaboard. Of course the railroads are vasily interested in the settlement of these rates, but what affects us affects the whole community. We have done what we could with the railroads, and the question is not decided. Why should not the community, which has could with the railroads, and the question is not de-cided. Why should not the community, which has a deep interest in it, have a voice in determining this problem? If the railr adscannot agree upon the fair difference of raises between Baltimore and Philadelphia and New-York, let the business men and the Boards of Trade say what advantages should be given and taken. The Central and the Eric now are fighting bit-terly for the supremacy of this city. Ought not the city, the business men, to take some interest in the struggle! At any rate the railroads cannot pro-long the fight forever; they are paying heavily for it now.

pressed in THE TRIBUSE.

But however this question of differential rates time it must be settled for a long time; there must be no agreement made merely to be brucen. The offerences in favor of Battimore and Phinadelphia have been reduced many times since we first made the agreement. But they have not been observed very well a may time, and there is no use for anyone to deny it. We know it, and have had to neet the rates of the other roads. I want that sort of thing to crass; I want a fair and an open rate. I have no objection to fighting a bankrupt road, if you picase. All I ask is that shippers should give a solvent road the preference over a bankrupt road at the same rates. That is not too much to ass, and it ought to be perfectly fair. One thing, at any rate, is certain; that fair, open rates must be made the basis of any agreement that may be made.

In regard to the report that the Baltimore and One management was contemplating making its

In regard to the report that the batchinder and Ohio management was contemplating maxing its parier cars tree in order to offset the advantages of the Central and the Pennsylvania fast trains, Mr. Vanderbilt said: "Oh, that doesn't amount to anything. The Baltimere and Ohio can't get the passenger travel then, Who ever thinks of going to Cucago by way of Baltimore! It is perfectly ridiculous, and that is all there is to it."

THE BOSTON BANK TROUBLES.

LITTLE EXCITEMENT IN FINANCIAL CIRCLES-CON-FIDENCE IN THE CONDITION OF THE CENTRAL. Boston, Nov. 22. At the Central Bank this morning everything was as quiet as usual, and there was nothing visible to indicate any variation in the usual ourse of its business. Several of the directors called a the bank, and from one it was learned that the actual surplus of receipts from all sources over disbursements yesterday was $170,000. This morning about $300,060 was received at the bank in regular course of collection, and the first move of the president was to set a art $100,000, with which to cancel to-day a portion of the loan received Saturday, thus saving the interest and demonstrating the ability of the bank to more than meet all its ability of the bank to more than meet demonstrating the availity of the bank to more than meet all its obligations.

The tank about the bank disturbances on the street is practically over. All fears of further trouble are dispelled, and business in the stock market is going on in its usual channels. The flurry, however, has caused many conservative operators upon whom the tone and activity of the market depend very largely to become slightly apprehensive, and as a consequence to leave speculation aione for the time being. It has caused, too, a light money market, and in one instance at least the calling in of bank loans. The case referred to is the Second National, which yesterday called in about $1,000,000 of outstanding funds on the plea of a demand from New-York.

The Market National Bank, of this city, has obtained an attachment against the property in this city of the Pacific National Bank of Boston, and a levy has been made on the balance in the hands of one of the New-York banks. The claim of the Market Bank amounts to $24,390, for which it holds five certificates of deposit of t Pacific Bans, dated in August, September and Octo-b. They were presented for payment, but the Pacific Bank was unable to meet them.

Mr. Scoville noticed another peculiarity about the prisoner—Julius Casar. I never liked the name, and do not have it; too nume of the negro about it.

The Trustees of this well-known institution, which, for more than twenty years, has been sheltering feeding and clothing thousands of the poor and neglected children of New-York, argently present this appeal for assistance to enable them to continue their work.

The institution is dependent for its support largely upon the voluntary girls of the public.

The 'lones of Industry is a HOME, as well as a charity day school, and so renders entire support to a large family daily. It is governed by an unsectarian Board of Trustees.

Particular attention is paid to the training of children. The boys are taught type-setting, while the girls learn to sew, cook, and do genera honsew ark, thereby fitting the children to be useful men and women. But for the House of Industry hundreds of neglected children would have been men and women of victors habits to-day who are now respectable members of society.
